

KING COUNTY CORRECTIONS GUILD

Public Safety Update: Rape Suspects Allowed Out of Jail

December 28, 2009

Dangerous suspects continue to be routinely released from secure detention. Here is the latest example of how the misuse of community corrections programs are endangering the public

- Andres Suazo-Ramirez was recently arrested and charged with rape in the second degree.
- Christopher D. Fiorini was recently arrested and charged with rape of a child.
- Both are awaiting trial.
- On December 23, both were released from the King County Jail.
- Suazo-Ramirez was assigned to Work-Education Release. Fiorini was assigned to Electronic Home Monitoring.

We remain frustrated that suspects charged with violent crimes continue to be released from jail pre-trial. We call on state and county authorities to put safety first and stop the release of dangerous individuals.
